DEMOCRATS NEAR AGREEMENT ON PLATFORM; TO ISSUES REMAINING TO FIGHT OVER

Conservation and Cancellation of Leases to be One of the Principal Planks of Democratic Platform—Indorsement of Cooperative Buying and Aiding in Foreign Sales of Grain Loom as Chief Planks in the Agricultural Sections of the Platform—Ku Klux and League Issues Yet Remain Undecided

New York, June 27.—(By the A. P.)—The Ku Klux Klan and the League of Nations remained today the only stumbling blocks to an agreement of the Democratic platform builders. On all other planks, including even those dealing with prohibition, agriculture and transportation, the platform committee of the Democratic national convention was in accord.

On the Klan more than 20 hours of deliberation was spent in sub-committee and four hours of argument last night in the committee.

The platform committee toiled over the party's declaration until nearly 3 o'clock this morning before giving up its effort to complete its work. It finally adjourned, however, until 2 p. m. today, after instructing the drafting committee to meet at noon for another attempt to reach an agreement on the Klan and League issues.

Thirty-five or more planks had been put into place when the committee adjourned and little difficulty was encountered until the Klan and League questions were reached. Meeting last night after the majority and minority reports on the two most troublesome planks, the full committee took up the less controversial sections and found little trouble in agreement.

The Principal Plank
The first and principal plank, as reported by the sub-committee and approved, deals with "Republican efficiency and corruption," charging the present administration with failure and accusing it of "attempting to impede and stop" the Senate investigations. Reference is made especially to the Teapot Dome, Daugherty and, Veterans Bureau investigations and to the charges against Republican members of Congress, which followed the grand jury inquiry into the Veterans Bureau situation.

For relief of agriculture, the committee would pledge the party to foster creation of national cooperative marketing associations and corporations to increase export of farm products; to take steps to bring agriculture to a parity with other industries; to make reduction of transportation costs on products through development of international waterways and to remove for revision of the tariff and of rail and water transportation rights. It also calls for an international policy of cooperation designed to revive American exports of Europe, asserting that Republican policy has had an opposite effect to accomplishing economic rehabilitation.

The sub-committee law enforcement declaration was revised by the committee to make the subject apply directly to prohibition. It also assails the Republican enforcement record but avoids specific reference to the 18th amendment and the Volstead act.

Other Planks
Other planks approved include: Readjustment of rail tariff schedules, abolition of the railroad labor board and repeal of the rate sections of the transportation act. Further reduction of federal taxes. Revision of Fordney-McCumber tariff law. Public control and cancellation of all oil leases. Provision for drafting material resources as well as man power in case of war. Reduction of armament on land and sea. Facilitation of steady employment for labor. Independence for the Philippines. Development of Muscle Shoals to reduce the cost of fertilizer. Exclusion of Japanese immigration. Government operation of the merchant marine until ships can be sold to American citizens. Government aid in reclamation. Mississippi flood control. Regulation of the anthracite industry. Removal of restrictions that retard prosperity in the mining industry. On Oil Resources Recovery of the national oil reserves and all other public resources under lease to private interests. Federal aid in development of Hawaii. Compulsory publicity for campaign contributions and expenditures. Employment of existing federal agencies to advance public education. Amendment of the constitution through popular referendum. General rehabilitation of wounded and sick former service men. Cooperation with foreign governments for suppression of traffic in narcotic drugs. The League treaty with Turkey. ### DAIRY CIRCUIT PICNIC WELL ATTENDED

Prominent Men Discuss Value of Community Testing Service

OVER 6000 PEOPLE THERE

Many Events Combine to Make the Day a Pleasant One For All Present

The Bismarck county annual circuit picnic which was held yesterday at Menoken grove, was very largely attended about 6000 farmers together with a good representation of business men, being present.

Several prominent men addressed the gathering, the principal speaker being Dr. Don McMahon, state agent in veterinary science at the North Dakota Agricultural college. "The Importance of Community Testing Work" was the subject. Dr. McMahon spoke on, emphasizing the necessity for the community testing work in improving the herds.

Mr. Bell
J. L. Bell, of this city, talked on what the circuit means to the business interests of Bismarck. The value of the testing service to the members of the circuit was discussed by L. J. Garske; while Chris. Yugen spoke on the value of the testing service in the future, emphasizing the elimination of non-productive cows. He stressed the value of right feeding in obtaining the best results, and in increasing the butter fat content.

All the events scheduled in the program of races and contests were run off as planned, with the exception of the horse race, for the fastest walking team, in which race there were no entries. The other races, including two horse races, several running races for both men and women, a horse shoe pitching contest, a pie eating contest for the boys, and a business men's race, provided a varied and interesting program for all present.

The Juvenile band played a program much appreciated by the picnicers, who complimented the boys highly. A clown band, the members dressed in black and white, composed of several of the young men of Bismarck, also favored the company with several selections.

Mayor A. P. Lenhart presided as judge of the events; J. P. French was starter, while A. F. Bradley, secretary of the Association of Commissioners, presented the prizes. J. G. Garske was general chairman representing the circuit.

F. A. Copeland was in charge of the transportation, being assisted by several members of his firm. The Walworth brothers Albert Zenzel, and F. J. Spionkowski, of Bradock, managed the work of the refreshment stand. Members of the circuit were so enthusiastic over the spirit engendered by the get-together day, that they voted to make the picnic an annual affair. They are even planning to have another picnic late in the summer, or early in the fall.

U. C. T. PICNIC PLANS MADE

All Members of U. C. T. Are Expected There

Traveling salesmen and their wives and families will start bright and early on Sunday morning to attend the picnic held by the U. C. T. as an annual affair.

From the corner of Fourth and Main street, signs will indicate the correct route to the picnic grounds. Having arrived there, the picnicers will find that the various committees in charge will have ready a program that will make the day a red letter one in the way of picnic.

The refreshment committee wishes to emphasize the fact that there will be enough for all to eat, so no one need bring a sandwich in his pocket. All members of the U. C. T. and their families are expected to be present.

Average motorist is said to waste 25 per cent of his gasoline power. Engineers place the life of an auto at six years.

TRIBUTE PAID COX

Party Leader of Four Years Ago Is Given Rousing Cheers in New York

Madison Square Garden, June 27.—(By the A. P.)—Pausing in the midst of bitter contention of its favorites of the hour, the Democratic national convention today united in a colorful tribute to its fighting leadership of the past.

While a band in a far gallery played "Should Old Acquaintance Be Forgotten" delegates from every state stood on their chairs and cheered the names of James M. Cox of Ohio, the party standard bearer in the desperate and disastrous battle of four years ago.

It was a tribute paying the tribute of democracy to the former Ohio Governor to stem the mighty tide of 1920. Ohio led in the demonstration, which lasted for a quarter of an hour after Mr. Cox's name had been placed in nomination for the presidency by Newton Baker, Wilson's wartime secretary of war, who himself received a rousing welcome and received praise for the Wilson policy and the League of Nations.

But a moment later the delegates returned to their rivalry over Mr. Adoo and Smith, with more demonstrations as speakers from a dozen states proceeded with a long string of seconding speeches. Nominating speeches also were delivered for the candidates not reached on yesterday's roll call and the way cleared to begin balloting tonight or tomorrow.

Ohio led in the demonstration, which lasted for a quarter of an hour after Mr. Cox's name had been placed in nomination for the presidency by Newton Baker, Wilson's war-time secretary of war, who himself received a rousing welcome and received praise for the Wilson policy and the League of Nations.

But a moment later the delegates returned to their rivalry over McAdoo and Smith, with more demonstrations as speakers from a dozen states proceeded with a long string of seconding speeches. Nominating speeches also were delivered for the candidates not reached on yesterday's roll call and the way cleared to begin balloting tonight or tomorrow.

WITH NESTOS MAJORITY ALMOST WIPE OUT, PREDICTION MADE OF VICTORY FOR GRAND FORKS MAN

Close Final Vote Is Indicated, However, and Balance of Ticket Named by Republicans May Consist in Part of Nonpartisans and Independents—Miss Nielson Leads Miss Palmer for Superintendent of Public Instruction—Thomas Hall Nominated for Congress in the Second District, Sinclair in Third and Buttness in the First.

Fargo, June 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—Arthur G. Sorlie of Grand Forks, carrying the support of the Nonpartisan League, won the Republican gubernatorial nomination in Wednesday's primary, unofficial returns available late today indicated.

With 235 precincts still unreported, Governor R. A. Nestos, the Independent candidate had a lead of 975, but most of the missing precincts are in territory known to include League strongholds, and reports from these are expected to wipe out this margin.

Governor Nestos, who was in Fargo today, said this afternoon that "on the face of returns now available" he regarded his defeat as inevitable, if the official returns bear out the unofficial tabulations.

In the 1925 precincts reported, the Governor had 66,435 votes, as compared to 65,460 polled by Sorlie. I. J. Moe, the third candidate, who ran independently, received 5,504 votes in those precincts.

Only 18 precincts of McKenzie county's 55 precincts, had reported in the above tabulations, and a report from that county said that approximately 3,200 votes were cast on the Republican ballot and according to unofficial reports went approximately two to one for Sorlie.

MRS. KNAUF IS NAMED HEAD OF A. L. AUXILIARY

Legislature in Doubt
The question of who will control the state senate loomed today as one of the big issues of the election, as the Independents, defeating Leaguers in two districts, Wells and Grant, suffered reverse in four districts, Sargent, Burleigh, Dickey and Nelson, and lacked one of a sufficient number of regular party nominations to retain Senate control.

As for the House, several upsets have taken place that leave that situation undetermined. Independents picked two members in LaMoore, one in Wells, one in Morton, and lost one in Benson and one in Barnes. The Independents had control of the House two years ago by a vote of 58 to 55, and have so far bettered their position though returns from several close districts remain unaccounted for.

In the 39th district, List, Independent, has carried Bowman and Golden Valley counties, while Wog, Leaguer, has carried Slope and Billings counties, but the vote is not complete enough to indicate the outcome.

Kitchen, Shafer Strong
With the governorship determined attention entered on the other two state industrial commission places, and unless Sorlie's margin exceeds the figure that is regarded as likely by both George Shafer and Joseph Kitchen, Independents, are in an advantageous position.

For instance, returns from a group of seven counties that have reported the complete vote on the three places—Governor, Attorney-General and Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor—both League candidates are falling behind Sorlie, while both Independent candidates are running ahead of Nestos.

These counties—Ransom, Steele, Eddy, Foster, Griggs, Logan and Sheldon—gave Nestos 5,708 and Sorlie 6,345.

In the same counties, Shafer had 5,828 and Thoresen, Leaguer, had 5,781, the Sorlie majority of 637 being converted into a Shafer margin of 47, or, in other words, Shafer picked up a total of 684 in this group of counties that cast about 11,500 votes. At that rate, if maintained, he would be nominated.

For Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor, Kitchen had 6,098 and 5,667 for Church, or a lead of 431 votes, representing a net gain of 1,068, also sufficient, if maintained, to off-set the final plurality that Sorlie will have in the state.

Steen was running behind Poindecker by 108 in the same counties for state auditor.

INTENSIVE FARMING IN ARGENTINA

Buenos Aires, June 26.—Argentina is a land where fortunes are to be made in the intensive type of farming. In the judgment of Leon M. Estabrook, an American agricultural expert who has been reorganizing the statistical and crop reporting department of the Argentine ministry of agriculture.

Referring to the marvelous agricultural development in his own country in the past 25 years, Mr. Estabrook said he felt confident that similar changes would be witnessed in Argentina within the next 10 or 20 years. "The tide of immigration already has begun to flow in the direction of Argentina," he said. "The vacant spaces soon will be filled up and become productive, and new crops, such as cotton, sugar-fruits, nuts and vegetables, will become important. The mineral and forest resources of Argentina will be developed, new industries will be established to manufacture and utilize the raw material produced in the country, and to supply the needs of a rapidly growing population. New towns give employment to the men and the capital of Argentina."

"I expect these changes to come rapidly, because the people of Argentina impress me as being very adaptable, which is a sign of youth, vitality and intelligence. They are quick to adopt improved methods and can therefore profit by the experience of other countries."

Aluminum Is Metal of Future Say English

London, June 27. (A. P.)—In the confident belief that aluminum is to be the metal of the future, a big staff of research chemists is investigating the metal at the National Physical Laboratory at Teddington-on-Thames. Several valuable discoveries have already been made. One of the chemists, J. D. Grogan, has this to say to a reporter:

"We have found how to make this metal, hitherto a somewhat poor conductor of electricity, of good conductivity. Aluminum has been slowly replacing copper in electrical undertakings, particularly for high-tension cables, and our discovery will help it to replace it much quicker. This alloy is both cheaper and of higher conductivity than copper, weight for weight."

While late in getting started, the hall filled rapidly as Cordell Hull banged the gavel which officially opened the convention.

"Dancers Heart" Is New Disease

London, June 26.—(A. P.)—One of the most fashionable complaints of the moment is "dancer's heart," according to advice from medical sources. The craze for dancing at all hours and at all times, between meals and between the courses of meals, is having an effect on the most energetic. A visit to the doctor produces the advice: "You have dancer's heart. You are suffering from overstrain. There is only one thing to do, rest for months."

Capital is going into this new business, attracted by the good profits, settlers are moving into the cotton belt, and a boom in cotton growing and spinning is predicted.

Trace Jazz To German Origin

Helders, Germany, June 26. (A. P.)—Jazz has become such a rage in Germany that musical students have been searching through the works of old masters with the hope of finding inspirations, which might be modernized. They contend they have found traces of jazz very suggestive of the jazz of today in some gypsy tunes of Robert Alexander Schumann, one of Germany's best known composers of the old school.

Hot Weather Habits Taught South By North

Rio De Janeiro, June 26.—Although this has been a land of perpetual summer far beyond the memory of the oldest inhabitant, it is only now that the Brazilian is learning how to handle hot weather, and he is receiving some of his best tips from the American.

Up to very recently, the Brazilian dressed with great formality. Black was the prevailing color, black heavy and hot. But now the Brazilian appears fresh and smiling in American "palm beach," whether he be senator, gambler or undertaker. Nowadays black is worn here only by foreigners.

A while ago the Brazilian refreshed himself with coffee, from half a dozen to 20 small cups a day. The sidewalk tables with their coffee drinkers are historical in Rio. At infrequent intervals he would take a tentative sip of lemonade or coconut milk.

But now the Brazilian is lining up on little stools before soda fountains, another American invasion of recent date. He is drinking ice cream sodas, sundae and everything a regular American drug store has for sale.

The American soda fountain made its debut here during the Centennial Exposition. It was accepted as a novelty and everybody tried it once. Then an adventuresome "Yankee" installed one in a small cafe on the outskirts of the business district of Rio. His success was so instant and enormous that the police were obliged to help handle the crowds. Soda fountains are now appearing in all parts of the city.

Athletes Aided In Japan's New Military Terms

Tokio, June 26.—(A. P.)—To encourage athletics, and in the hope of raising Japan's international athletic status, the government has announced changes in the regulations governing conscription for military service. Hereafter young Japanese who go aboard for athletic competition will have their conscription terms postponed until their athletic tour is finished. This, it is claimed, will encourage international competition, as heretofore promising athletes have been prevented from going abroad by the imminence of their conscription terms.

Bulgarian Maids Quit When Sun Gets Too Hot

Sofia, Bulgaria, June 26.—(A. P.)—Domestic servants in Bulgaria all throw up their jobs on St. George's day, the first day of the spring season. Neither maid nor mistress expects the relation to continue beyond May 5.

The reason is found in an old custom. Formerly all young women were needed back on the farms when spring time arrived, and they were permitted to go to the city to work during the winter only on condition they would return and help with the plowing. Even if they don't work in the fields today as they used to, Bulgarian girls in service set aside their brooms regularly on May 5, and consider what they will do next. Often, after a couple of days off, they come back to the same kitchen and find the broom just where they left it.

THE Big-Six Touring is a seven-passenger car—not merely a seven-passenger body mounted on a five-passenger chassis.

It was designed and built for seven-passenger service—with a motor of ample power and stamina for seven-passenger satisfaction.

Then, too, with the auxiliary seats folded away, the Big-Six becomes the most desirable five-passenger car in which you have ridden, with room enough for all the luggage you will ever need.

Big-Six appearance is attractive, distinctive, and of good taste. Its performance, acceleration, flexibility and dependability are known and respected the world over.

No car, regardless of price, surpasses it in quality or completeness of equipment.

If a smaller manufacturer or assembler were to build the Big-Six—of equal quality and workmanship—his price would be $3,500—perhaps more.

But Big-Six overhead is distributed over six times as many units as are built by any Big-Six competitor, hence Big-Six cost and selling price are surprisingly low.

Don't buy blindfolded. Examine, ride in and drive the Big-Six before you buy any other car.

Candidates against each other in the fall.

In the Democratic candidacy for Governor, with 392 precincts in, Dr. S. S. Platon of Fargo was leading favor Halvorson of Minot by 400 votes.

Governorship Count
The count at various stages today stood:
1,600 precincts—Nestos 59,531; Sorlie 55,208, a lead of 4,323 for Nestos.

1,840 precincts, Nestos 65,172; Sorlie 62,874, a lead of 2,298 for Nestos.

Near Home Stretch
Coming down the final stretch the Governor and the Grand Forks League were in a nose and nose race as the finishing mark drew nearer, he early lead established by Nestos rapidly fading before the shower of final precinct reports.

From a lead of 12,000 votes in returns available yesterday, the margin of Governor Nestos had been cut at noon today to slightly less than 3,000, with additional League precincts still unreported.

Some of the precincts that cut into Nestos' margin were additional reports from Burleigh, Cavalier, McLean, Ward and LaMoure, while the Governor received a few additional votes for his plurality from Richland, McIntosh and Ransom.

In Richland 18 additional precincts gave Nestos 472 and Sorlie 421. Burleigh, 16 precincts, Nestos 75 and Sorlie 400. These were rural precincts. One precinct in Cavalier gave Sorlie 64 to 21 for Nestos. Ransom 4 precincts gave Nestos 87, Sorlie 35; LaMoure, one precinct, Nestos 70; Sorlie 158.

Returns from 12,029 precincts give Republican contest for Lieutenant-Governor, give Maddock 44,494; Ployhar 39,205.

For Republican Secretary of State, 1,230 precincts give Byrne, League 33,811; Hall 14,896; Shipley 34,963.

Bismarck, N. D., June 27.—For the first time in eight years, the sixteenth legislative district will be represented in the lower house by an I. V. A. representative if early returns from North Dakota's primary election here today are to be taken for granted. I. W. Stanley is the I. V. A. candidate who will break through the league lines and receive the nomination for representative from this district, according to early returns yesterday.

SAPPHIRE FIND MADE IN CEYLON

The largest find of sapphires ever made in Ceylon, if not in the world, is reported from Palamadulla, about 50 miles from Colombo. The find is in a paddy field of an area of about two acres.

The sapphires include yellow, gold, purple and blue stones varying in size from 20 to 700 carats. Some of them, the report states, weigh about half a pound and are marvelous in color. One of the best known Colombo dealers in precious stones declares the find an unprecedented one, but thinks the stones are too large. What dealers now want in sapphires are stones that weigh between 4 and 20 carats, as the demand for large pendants is gone, as are the days when crowned heads and wealthy collectors would pay high prices for a single stone.

Some of the stones found have been valued at about $75,000, rough polished. One sapphire, perfect in every respect, of excellent quality and color, free from flaw and cut perfectly, sold for $250 a carat.

The largest finished sapphire ever sent out of Ceylon was one sold to the late J. Pierpont Morgan in 1908. This stone, said to be the largest in the world, was found at Kuruwita Korale near Ratnapura in 1908, and weighed 400 carats after being cut and polished.

The find in the paddy field has caused a sensation in Colombo and has attracted many visitors to the place where sapphires are still being taken out, the yield being practically unlimited.

MAUGHAN IN N. D. ONE YEAR

Record - Making Flier Taught School in This State

Minneapolis, Minn., June 27.—Lieut. Russell L. Maughan, epoch-maker of the air, Monday completed a flight from the East to the West coast between dawn and dusk, is a Minnesota man, and his father, George E. Maughan, is a Minneapolis resident.

Lieut. Maughan spent his youth on a farm near Morris, Minn., and there he lived until he had finished high school, his father said last night. His mother and two sisters live at Morris.

"He's a Minnesota boy, alright," the elder Maughan added, with a twinkle in his eye, "and knows where the good fishing is—just as I do. Just the same, I wish he was in something else. It is mighty dangerous. Not that he cares—or ever did."

"He always was a great boy for games and stunts. He never smoked or drank. He kept himself in fine physical trim. He was keen to play for the high school at Morris."

"Russell taught school for a winter in North Dakota, after finishing high school at Morris. Then he took the examination for observers in the weather bureau at Grand Forks and only five in all the country stood higher on the civil service rating. He was assigned immediately to Riverside, Cal., and at the time of the war and his volunteering he was at Davenport, Iowa."

The elder Maughan came to Minneapolis direct from Liverpool forty-one years ago, he said.

Bankers Plan On Immigration

Minot, N. D., June 27.—Members of the immigration and development committee of the northwest group of the North Dakota Bankers association, meeting in Minot named C. H. Zehringer of the Union National bank of Minot as treasurer and made plans for the furtherance of the work which it plans to do the coming year.

The conference was held at the call of Hans Miller of Ryder, president of the northwest group, and the committee members who were present included R. A. Johnson, Makoti, chairman; A. J. Ross, Stanley; W. T.

BOBBED HAIR DEVORCE

Stockton, Cal., June 27.—Many men object to their wives bobbing their hair. James Saunders went further than that. He went into court and sued for divorce. Many times, he said, he had told Mrs. Saunders not to have her locks shorn and when she did so despite his warning, they quarreled and separated.

Seattle Nurse Is Firm Believer In Tanlac And Recommends It.

"From my long experience as a professional nurse, I do not hesitate to say I consider Tanlac the most efficient and natural stomach medicine and tonic to be had. It is undoubtedly nature's most perfect remedy," is the far-reaching statement given out for publication, recently, by Mrs. I. A. Borden, 425 Pontius Ave., Seattle, Wash., a graduate of the National Temperance Hospital, Chicago.

"I have used Tanlac exclusively for seven years in the treatment of my charity patients," said Mrs. Borden, "and my experience has been that for keeping the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels functioning properly, and for toning up the system in general, it has no equal."

"About a year ago I had a lady patient who could not keep a thing on her stomach fifteen minutes not even water. I prevailed on her to try Tanlac and after the sixth bottle she could eat absolutely anything she wanted without the slightest bad after-effects."

"I had another patient who simply could not eat. I got him started on Tanlac and by the time he finished three bottles he was eating ravenously and able to work."

"These two instances that are typical of the wonderful merits of the medicine. My confidence in Tanlac is unlimited."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 Million bottles sold.

Tanlac Vegetable Pills for constipation made and recommended by the manufacturers of TANLAC.—Adv.

Munn, Westhope; and Mr. Miller. August Peterson of Harvey, another member of the committee was unable to attend.

Mr. Zehringer, as treasurer, was authorized to present drafts for the immigration and development fund to the banks in northwestern North Dakota in accordance with a decision made at the group meeting of bankers in Minot on May 20, at which time the banks of this district voted a voluntary assessment to continue the development and immigration work started a year ago.

While the work is being carried on under the name of the Northwestern North Dakota Development association, it has been financed largely by the banks.

NEW CITY WATER PLANT SUFFICIENT TO PROVIDE FOR FUTURE GROWTH; OPERATION IS DESCRIBED

Soft, Filtered Water Is Promised to Residents of the City as Soon as the New Plant Is Completely Over the Testing Period—Additional Fire Pressure Is Provided in the New Plant—Method of Making Wholesome Water Out of Raw River Water Is Told

Citizens of Bismarck, with the new filtration plant in operation, will get clear soft water at the tap as soon as the work of cleaning reservoirs and flushing of mains is completed, and the test period in the new plant has passed, according to city engineers.

The new plant, it is declared, is complete in every respect, and will be one of the best in the Northwest. The complete water works system, owned and operated by the city, will represent an investment of upwards of $700,000 and will be operated completely by the city, even to the generating of electricity for the power needed in pumping the water.

The old plant of the Bismarck Water Supply Company will be abandoned entirely as soon as the intake pipe for the new plant is completed. At the present time it is used only for receiving water from the river and pumping it to the filtration plant. The new plant is a short distance from the Missouri River, is seven feet above the highest known high water mark, and includes sedimentation basins, filter plant and pumping equipment.

The reservoirs of the old plant on the hills west of the city will be used. One important change which will be made with the new plant is in respect to fire protection. Heretofore, to increase pressure it has been necessary to operate a booster pump located between the reservoirs and the city. In the new plant, water can be pumped direct to the city without going to the reservoirs, and this will be done in case of fire. Formerly it was necessary to have a man at the booster pump to increase fire protection, while under the new method an engineer in the new plant can pull a lever and increase the pressure.

Under Various Contracts The new plant was built under various contracts. The DeGraff & Voss company laid the mains, the Woodrich Construction Company built the filtration plant building, F. G. Grambs and his Midwest Company installed pumps, Mr. Grambs installed the heating system, and the McFarland Engineer Company of Kansas City, with L. C. Roberts in charge, installed the filter equipment. The McIntosh-Seymour Company, furnished Diesel engine.

The process of the water in the new plant is as follows: The low life pumps will discharge water into a roughing chamber, having a capacity of 45,000 gallons, which, at the normal rate of operation, gives a period of 30 minutes for settling out of the heavier sediment before chemical treatment.

From the roughing chamber the water flows to the mixing chambers, three in number, so arranged that any one can be cut out for cleaning without interference with the operation of the others. Each chamber is 15 feet by 20 feet in size, and 17 feet deep, and is provided with baffles, arranged to cause the water to travel alternately up and down. The baffles will be movable, and can be arranged to provide velocities ranging from one foot per second down to one-half foot per second. The time of travel, through each chamber, is at the normal rate of 250,000 gallons per day, 20 minutes for each chamber, or one hour when all chambers are in operation. The length of travel can be carried from 500 feet to 900 feet for each chamber. The velocity will not be the same in all parts of the chamber.

Both the roughing chamber and the mixing chamber are inside the filtration plant building, as are all valves and sluice gates which control their operation, including drain valves for cleaning.

The sedimentation basins are of reinforced concrete, with concrete roofs, covered with 16 inches of earth. They will be two basins, each with a capacity of 300,000 gallons, or four hours sedimentation for each basin at the normal rate, with the water passing first through one basin, and then through the second. The basins may also be operated with the water dividing, and half passing through each basin, in which case the flow will be slower. In either case the time of passage through the two basins will be eight hours.

The eight-hour period of sedimentation was chosen with a view to providing sufficient time for the chemical reaction involved in the softening. During the summer months water softening will probably be unnecessary, in which case the four hour period of one basin will be sufficient for coagulation.

Chemical Treatment The chemical treatment is described in an official report to the state board of health as follows: Sedimentation is augmented by the use of coagulants. Either sulphate of alumina, or sulphate of iron and lime may be used. Three dry feed machines are provided, one for the coagulant, one for lime, and one for soda ash, the latter to be used for the reduction of permanent hardness. These machines will be operated by electric motors, and will be adjustable for various rates of feed. A large room, forming the second story of the filtration plant, will provide for the storage of chemicals, which can be unloaded at a platform at the rear of the building at the level of the chemical storage room, and discharged into hoppers leading directly to the machines below.

The quantities of chemicals required for coagulation will depend upon the varying condition of the

MISSOURI BEAUTY

Helen Angel of Columbia, Mo., is considered one of the prettiest co-eds at the University of Missouri. She has been selected one of the six prettiest there.

Missouri River water, but should not exceed three grains per gallon at any time for coagulation, the report says.

To complete the process of clarification, three rapid sand filters are provided for, each with a rated capacity of 750,000 gallons per day. Each filter will have a sand bed 15 feet by 16 feet in area, and 30 inches deep, resting on 22 inches of graded gravel, the normal rate of filtration being two gallons per square foot per minute.

Each filter is regulated by a rate of flow controller, and the wash water line is equipped with a controller. All valves will be hydraulically operated from operating tables on the main floor.

Water Softening The plant has been designed with mixing chambers, and sedimentation basins of sufficient size to permit of using the plant as a water softening plant during periods when the hardness of the raw water becomes objectionable. It is expected that this will be the case during about six months of the year.

Filters are expected to remove all contamination, but as an additional safeguard to pure water, a chlorinator is included in the equipment, the present chlorinator in the old plant being reserved for emergency use.

The source of supply of the water—the Missouri River—is considered to have an excellent raw water. Analyses of the Missouri River water show a water of very moderate hardness, says the report to the health board, adding that it can readily be softened by chemical treatment, to make it clear and wholesome.

Capacity Increased The capacity of the new plant is considered greater than the old plant, which had a capacity of 1,500,000 gallons a day, according to the report. The new plant has a capacity of 2,500,000 gallons per day, providing for future growth of the city, as well as to make it possible during the winter months, when the consumption of water is comparatively small, to operate the plant eight hours per day only.

The present average consumption of water in Bismarck is 600,000 gallons in summer and 900,000 gallons in winter, with the known maximum daily consumption of 1,100,000 gallons per day.

The new plant has two sets of pumps, the low lift and the high lift. Two low lift centrifugal pumps, each with a speed of 600 revolutions per minute, are provided for lifting water from the Missouri river to the suction well to the grit chamber of the filtration plant. These pumps will have capacities of 2,060,000 and 2-800,000 gallons per day, respectively, and will be given by electric motors. The larger pump has a auxiliary gas engine for emergency use.

There are three centrifugal high lift pumps providing for the pumping of filtered water from the clear well of the filtration plant to the storage reservoirs and city. Two of these pumps will have capacities of 2,060,000 gallons per day each, and will be driven by electric motors. Each of these pumps also have an auxiliary gas engine for use in case of fire, or failure of electric power. There also will be one pump of 2,800,000 gallons per day capacity, driven by electric motor, but without reserve gas engine.

In case of fire this method is used to increase pressure. Two of the smaller high lift pumps are used in series, that is, with one pump drawing from the clear well and discharging to the other, which will act as a booster pump, and deliver water to the supply mains at any pressure desired up to 130 pounds. At the same time, the larger pump can be operated so as to draw its supply under pressure from the storage reservoirs, and deliver water to the mains at the same pressure.

The fire pressure capacity, according to engineers, is above that rated by fire underwriters for a city of 10,000 population.

Power Provided A 200-horse-power Diesel oil engine will operate the power plant. There is a space for installing a second engine of 300-horse-power capacity should it be needed at a later date. Oil storage of 12,000 gallons is provided outside the building. A 135 K. V. generator is directly connected to the engine, and will generate power at 2,200 volts, alternating current. The power supplied by the engine and generator is sufficient to operate one low lift pump and one high lift pump, and light the building.

New supply mains were installed as a part of the new plant. The old plant mains are reinforced as follows: One 16-inch main extending from the filtration plant to and through the upper residential portion of the city. Two 12-inch mains connecting the plant with the present 12-inch supply main. A short 12-inch main connecting the plant with the old force main just outside the old plant. A short 12-inch emergency connection at the rear of the new plant.

NAVY MISHAPS KILL MORE THAN WAR

BY LARRY BOARDMAN
NEA Service Writer
Washington, June 26—More than twice as many navy men have been killed by accidents since the armistice as died in action on American ships during the war.

For the World War years, 1917 and 1918, the total was 467.

With the disaster on the battleship Mississippi June 12, the post-war toll reached 931.

During the war the navy lost 10 vessels—a cruiser, a gunboat, a submarine, a collier, two destroyers two trawlers and two yachts.

Since the war it has lost nine—eight destroyers and one tug.

Indeed, peace-time tragedies in the American navy always have been frequent and formidable in proportion, both as to numbers and the amount of damage done.

A list of outstanding accidents for 20 years:

Turret explosion on battleship Missouri 1904; killed 31.

Boiler explosion on gunboat Bennington, 1905; killed 34.

Turret explosion on battleship Kearsarge, 1906; killed 16.

Turret explosion on battleship Georgia, 1907; killed 6.

Bursting of boiler tube on cruiser Tennessee, 1908; killed 5.

Blowout of breech block on cruiser Charleston, 1910; killed 8.

Boiler explosion on battleship Delaware, 1911; killed 18.

Ramming of destroyer Waples by a shipping board vessel off Panama, 1921; killed 10.

Loss on navy tug Conestoga in the Pacific, 1921; drowned 43.

Point Honda disaster, 1923, in which, through a wrong change in course, the commander of a destroyer squadron piled seven vessels on the rocks of the southern California coast; death toll, 22.

Turret explosion on battleship Mississippi, 1924; killed 48.

QUERY: What, if anything, is the matter with the American navy? Why are accidents so numerous? Faulty construction, or material? Or carelessness, or deficient training, on the part of personnel?

The answer, as responsible Navy Department officials give it, is this: "Of course there is a specific cause for every accident. A court of inquiry may put the blame either upon material or personnel. But the very officials who fix the blame know there simply must be a slip once in a while."

As for the Mississippi disaster, the prevailing belief in naval circles is that compressed air failed to clean out the bore of the exploding gun—a bit of smoldering waste remained in the barrel and ignited the powder charge prematurely.

In the completed system there are two lines extending between the plant and the reservoirs, one by way of the old plant and force main, and one by way of the valve chamber of the two new ones.

Enough for 17,000 People The new distribution system will provide good pressure in all parts of the city, it is declared. At no point in the city will the domestic pressure at a strict level be less than 25 pounds per square inch at any time, it is declared, while in the business district it will average 55 pounds. Fire pressure of 100 pounds in the business district, and not less than 70 pounds in the residence district, should be available within five minutes after a fire alarm has been turned in, it says.

The completed system is intended to supply practically the entire population of the city. The plant is sufficient in capacity to supply a population of 17,000 with water for domestic use, and a population of upwards of 10,000 with water for fire purposes in strict accordance with the exacting requirements of the fire underwriters, it is said by engineers. Moderate additions to the mains in the business district, and to the filtration plant, made when the city reaches a population of 10,000 to 12,000 would serve to bring the fire flow up to that required for a city of 17,000, it is added. There will be a total of 122 fire hydrants.

inch lines connect with the old supply main.

HOME FROM LAKES Dr. R. E. Percy returned Tuesday evening accompanied by Mrs. Percy and children, who have been visiting in Fargo and at Shoreham, Minn., for the past three weeks. Dr. Percy drove to Fargo about a week to get his family and to spend a few days at the lake.

AT THE MOVIES

THE ELTINGE "Jacqueline" or "Blazing Barriers" from a James Oliver Curwood story is the feature at the Eltinge theatre today and Saturday. Lew Cody, Mary Gertrude Courtot, J. Barney Sherry and Edmund Breece are among the players. Two men loved Jacqueline. One, a suave, polished product of the cities who thought to win her love by trickery and guile, the other a woodsman, upright and honorable, whose love was so clean and fine as the pines among which he dwelt.

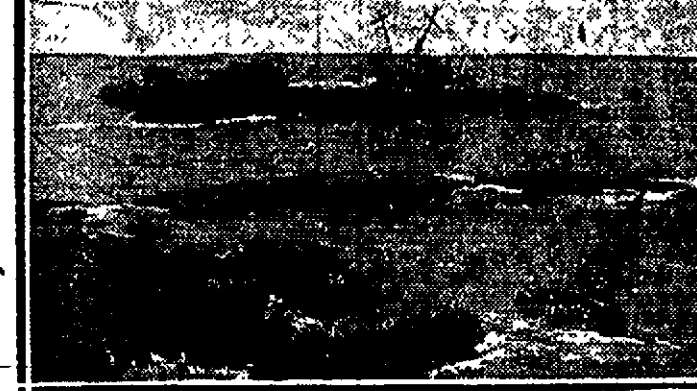

AT THE CAPITOL In every city of the country and on the farms and in the villages too, there are motherless girls facing the problems of life. Some of them find the solution and realize their ambitions. Others are just butterflies that flit a while. The types are realistically presented in the William Fox production, "No Mother to Guide Her," coming to the Capitol theatre on Monday.

Genevieve Tobin, Dolores Rouze, J. D. Walsh and other well known artists form a strong cast, presenting a remarkable story which established its success on the stage and is certain to be even greater on the screen.

Mr. O'Connor concluded the reading of the speech after the chairman had rebuked the delegates twice for their inattention and after he had skipped several pages of the prepared manuscript.

After the conclusion of his address and the name of Governor Bryan there was an outburst of cheering. Finally, after a little milling around, a parade got started with Nebraska at the head. It was a parade Governor Bryan or his brother, William Jennings Bryan, whichever one might prefer, but at all events it was a parade and a demonstration for the name of Bryan, and the old timers whatever their sympathies in the present convention might be, joined smilingly with recollection on battles of the past in the background.

SAPPHIRE FIND MADE IN CEYLON

The largest find of sapphires ever made in Ceylon, if not in the world, is reported from Felmadulla, about 50 miles from Colombo. The find is in a paddy field of an area of about two acres. The sapphires include yellow, gold, purple and blue stones varying in size from 20 to 700 carats. Some of them, the report states, weigh about half a pound and are marvelous in color. One of the best known Colombo dealers in precious stones declares the find an unprecedented one, but thinks the stones are too large. What dealers now want in sapphires are stones that weigh between 4 and 20 carats, as the demand for large pendants is gone, as are the days when crowned heads and wealthy collectors would pay high prices for a single stone. Some of the stones found have been valued at about $75,000, rough polished. One sapphire, perfect in every respect, of excellent quality and color, free from flaw and cut perfectly, sold for $250 a carat. The largest finished sapphire ever cut out of Ceylon was one sold to the late J. Pierpont Morgan in 1908. This stone, said to be the largest in the world, was found at Kuruvita Kurale near Ratnapura in 1908, and weighed 400 carats after being cut and polished.

The find in the paddy field has caused a sensation in Colombo and has attracted many visitors to the place where sapphires are still being taken out, the yield being practically unlimited.

MAUGHAN IN N. D. ONE YEAR

Record-Making Flier Taught School in This State

Minneapolis, Minn., June 27.—Lieut. Russell L. Maughan, epoch-maker of the air, Monday completed a flight from the East to the West coast between dawn and dusk, in a Minneapolis man, and his father, George E. Maughan, is a Minneapolis resident. Lieut. Maughan spent his youth on a farm near Morris, Minn., and there he lived until he had finished high school, his father said last night. His mother and two sisters live at Morris.

He's a Minnesota boy, alright," the elder Maughan added, with a twinkle in his eye, "and knows where the good fishing is—just as I do. Just the same, I wish he was in something else. It is mighty dangerous. Not that he cares—or ever did. "He always was a great boy for games and stunts. He never smoked or drank. He kept himself in fine physical trim. He was keen to play for the high school at Morris. "Russell taught school for a winter in North Dakota, after finishing high school at Morris. Then he took the examination for observers in the weather bureau at Grand Forks and only five in all the country stood higher on the civil service rating. He was assigned immediately to Riverside, Cal., and at the time of the war and his volunteering he was at Davenport, Iowa. "The elder Maughan came to Minneapolis direct from Liverpool forty-one years ago, he said.

GRADUATE NURSE TELLS HOW TANLAC HELPED MANY OF HER PATIENTS

Seattle Nurse Is Firm Believer In Tanlac And Recommends It.

"From my long experience as a professional nurse, I do not hesitate to say I consider Tanlac the most efficient and natural stomach medicine and tonic to be had. It is undoubtedly nature's most perfect remedy. It is the far-reaching statement given out for publication, recently, by Mrs. I. A. Borden, 425 Pontius Ave., Seattle, Wash., a graduate of the National Temperance Hospital, Chicago.

"I have used Tanlac exclusively for seven years in the treatment of my elderly patients," said Mrs. Borden. "and my experience has been that for keeping the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels functioning properly, and for toning up the system in general, it has no equal. "About a year ago I had a lady patient who could not keep a thing on her stomach fifteen minutes not even water. I prevailed on her to try Tanlac and after the first bottle she could eat absolutely anything she wanted without the slightest bad after-effects. "I had another patient who simply could not eat. I got him started on Tanlac and by the time he finished three bottles, he was eating heartily and able to work. "These two instances that are typical of the wonderful merits of Tanlac. My confidence in Tanlac is unlimited. "Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

The marriage of Miss Iva L. S. Meyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Kelson of Sutton, N. Dak., and Mr. Louis Anderson of Williston, was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents near Sutton Wednesday at 2 o'clock p. m.

The wedding took place on a spacious porch where an altar was made of smilax, bridal wreath and pink peonies. Rev. E. Estrum of Cooperstown, N. D., performed the ceremony.

The strains of Lohengrin's Wedding march, played by Miss Calm Hoffman of McIntosh, Minn., the minister followed by the groom and best man, Mr. Ralph Bullison of Mapleton, N. D., entered at the right of the altar. Then came the bridesmaid, Miss Agda Olson of Sutton, next the maid of honor, Miss Pearl Mayer of Aurora, Ill., Little Virginia Bowers, the flower girl entered, scattering flowers in front of the bride, who entered next. Following her came Frank Meyer Bowers, carrying the wedding ring concealed in a big pink peony. When the bridal party reached the altar, Miss Myrtle Olson of Sutton, sang "I Love You Truly."

The bride wore a white satin charmusee sleeveless dress trimmed in silver lace and pearls. Her veil was of white tulle trimmed with pearls, orange blossoms and old lace from her mother's wedding gown. She carried a bridal bouquet of white roses with a shower of lilies of the valley. The groom and best man wore the conventional black.

After the ceremony and congratulations, a bounteous dinner was served on the lawn at which a hundred guests were served.

To DIANEME
Sweet, be not proud of those two eyes,
Which, star-like, sparkle in their skies;
Nor be you proud, that you can see
All hearts your captives, yours yet free;
Be you not proud of that rich hair,
Which wanders with the low-sick air;
When as that ruby which you wear,
Sunk from the tip of your soft ear,
Will last to be a precious stone,
When all your world of beauty's gone.

Gas Is Sold Automatically To Motorists

Stockholm, June 27.—Stimulated by the rapid motorizing of Swedish highway traffic, native engineers have patented three inventions for the comfort and safety of motorists. These are an automatic beacon light for giving warnings at railroad crossings, an automatic slot machine for refilling gas tanks, and a device which prevents the accidental running out of batteries.

The crossing beacon consists of a flashing light in a cylindrical lantern with red and white sectors in opposite quadrants. When the railroad is clear the white lights show, and when a train approaches the lantern rotates automatically showing a red light to the highway and a white light to the train. This beacon will work under unfavorable conditions of snow and ice.

The automatic gasoline vendor can be utilized by the customer at any time of night and day by connecting the tube with the gas tank of the car, dropping a krona in the slot, and operating a lever. The quantity of gasoline received naturally varies according to the market price, which can be quoted at the minimum, owing to the saving of wages for attendants.

The attachment which automatically cuts off the batteries when the engine is stopped involves the principles of suction and gravity. It is essentially a switch system which is connected with the gas intake or the lubrication pipes so that the suction actuates a weight that rises and closes the electric circuit. When the suction stops, the weight falls and throws the switch open.

WOMAN BUYS SPEEDWAY
Mrs. C. G. Armingeon of Houston, Tex., is said to be the only woman auto speedway owner in the country. She has just bought the Houston Speedway, where she expects to bring the greatest dirt track stars of the nation.

Macaroni accompanies yeast very well, particularly if served only with melted butter.

FOOD SALE

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1873)

GIN
"They had been drinking synthetic gin," is getting to be a familiar expression in connection with most crimes that get the limelight.
Synthetic gin—flavored alcohol, known to the underworld as "white line"—is not a creation of prohibition. For several years before America went dry, the bulk of its gin was faked and labeled in the east.
Rotten liquor—greed of many engaged in the liquor traffic—helped make the country dry.
The liquor industry committed suicide.

SAM
If we all chipped in $200 apiece we could pay off the entire national debt. Every one hasn't the $200, however. So the debt remains and the public, by taxes, pays interest on the debt the same as if the debt money were a bank loan.
National debt now is around 21,348 million dollars, after deducting cash in the treasury. The total has been reduced over 4000 million dollars since its peak in 1919. Salvaged war materials account for considerable of the cut. From now on, the debt probably will drop less slowly. The public will have less money for taxes.

PINCHED
A lot of small-time actors, not making as much money as they need, are selling goods as a sideline—clothing, groceries, etc.
In Argentina, teachers have classes only half the day, and hold outside jobs the rest of the time.
Possibly we are approaching such a high standard of "efficiency" that most of us have to hold down two jobs to get enough to eat.

JAPS
Japanese boycott of American made goods is childishly foolish. For, continued, it might lead to retaliation.
We're Japan's leading export customer. We buy more from her than she from us. Last year Japan sold us over 160 million dollars worth of goods more than she bought from us. Already boycotted by China, and risking a retaliatory boycott of her wares in America, the Rising Sun might very easily become a Setting Sun.

JAM
Traffic congestion costs Manhattan Island, N. Y., over 182 million dollars a year, it's estimated. Chicago's toll is a third as much. Other big cities also pay.
The "loss" is mainly loss of personal time and delay of truck and wagon deliveries. To call it a loss is a bit foolish. For every $1 lost by multiplicity of autos, at least $10 is saved by the auto's time and labor-saving services.

SOLD
Some have the notion that all export business makes lots of jobs for Americans. Granted, but it varies. Our exports of finished manufactured goods now are not much larger than exports of raw materials to be turned into finished products by labor in foreign lands.
Foreign trade to keep Americans busy is what we need most.

AUTO PRODUCTION
American factories in 1923 produced 3,635,767 passenger autos, compared with 2,339,768 the year before, final figures show. And it looks as if 1924 will smash another record. In January three and a half times as many passenger autos were manufactured as in January, 1922.
How long will it be until there'll be similar figures for airplane production.

WEATHER
We are creatures of the weather. Small wonder we talk about it so much. Retailers blame the late spring for the business recession. Laggard weather held back the sales of spring clothing and other seasonal commodities. That put a lot of makers out of work. The weather was like a dam, backing up dull business into many channels.

THEN
Why have heart failure because the iron and steel business has been so dull lately? In May, the output of pig iron dropped a lot. But, at that, it was almost as much as in May of 1913, one of the best pre-war banner years.
The nation is gradually adjusting itself to peace-time production, after abnormal war-time activity.

UNCHANGED
A hill tribe that hasn't changed its custom for 3000 years is discovered in northern Africa. They live the same as their ancestors 30 centuries ago.
We'd have less confusion and get our bearings if we stood still for 10 years or more. Science and applied economics are developing faster than man's ability to control them.

BUYERS
Germany's now our third best export customer. She's steadily buying more. And France, in fourth place, is steadily buying less of our wares.
Situations like this are apt to have a lot to do with shaping diplomatic policies.

GAMBLING
The securities listed on the New York Stock Exchange now total over 68 million dollars. These stocks and bonds, represent property, organizations and business activity. To the average patron of stock exchanges, they represent merely chips in a gambling game—a game in which a fourth of our entire national wealth is in the "pot."

People on the level are on anyone's level.

UNITED STATES TO WITHDRAW FROM SANTO DOMINGO

Announcement is made through the American State Department that the American marines are to be withdrawn from Santo Domingo on July 1.
At that time the republic of Santo Domingo will be turned over to rely upon her own strength for existence. The United States has been occupying Santo Domingo for a few years in order to stop murder and to enforce the laws. The United States has done this with marines. The marines as a rule are young men who are quick to think and quick to act. The American marines have worked under strict instructions in regard to their conduct.
In one paragraph of Gen. Lee's instructions, we find these words: "Never start a disturbance with the Dominicans. If you want to fight put on the gloves and start training for the next boxing meet; you will meet any number of men right here in your own camp who will give you a more exciting scrap than Dominicans will, and you can win a boxing belt instead of bread and water. Carefully avoid any kind of trouble. Don't start an argument with a Dominican because you don't like the way he looks at you. Avoid trouble with them."

The general said further: "Remember we are not conducting the affairs of the Dominican republic, but the Dominican people are on trial in conducting their own affairs, and let us stand off and maintain the attitude of dignity and courtesy that the commanding general asks of us. In conclusion let's recall that one point we discussed in the beginning that our conduct here is our country's conduct."
Under the American rule special attention has been given to the matter of education. Day schools have been established over all of the republic, even in the rural districts, and the children of Santo Domingo are attending.
The department of education has been established; it has for several years been striving to put an end to illiteracy in the Dominican republic. The American, having been building good roads and there is a good road entirely across the republic north to south.
Many good bridges have been constructed. Nearly all the expenses have been borne by the government of the United States. Those who are most familiar with the situation believe that with the building of good roads, riots and revolutions in the Dominican republic will come to an end.
The American people hope that Santo Domingo may have peace. The island is rich although it is not half the size of the state of Iowa. It produces cotton, all kinds of fruits, sugar and tobacco.
Santo Domingo and Haiti were once one country. The French occupied Haiti and the Spaniards occupied Santo Domingo. This island was discovered by Columbus on his first voyage. The Spaniards so brutally treated the Haitians that the island had to be repopulated by the purchase of slaves imported from Africa.
Haiti and Santo Domingo have been left to chance and the work of France and Spain. America has had charge of Santo Domingo since July, 1916. Haiti at one time controlled Santo Domingo and the greatest fear in Santo Domingo is that the United States will control Haiti and the United States is in control of Haiti and will not withdraw at present. Santo Domingo now has a good president, good cabinet, good congress and her debt is practically paid off—Des Moines Capital.

CONSERVING OUR PRESIDENTS

Representative Theodore E. Burton of Ohio, in his keynote address at the Republican National Convention, called attention to the necessity of relieving the President from a part of the routine work which has been becoming an ever increasing burden upon our Chief Executives.
Mr. Burton offered but one suggestion to bring about relief and that was to extend the civil system in the selection of Federal employees. Mr. Burton said: "There could be no more practical step in accomplishing this (that is relief from exacting duties) than to diminish the demands upon his time for the settlement of the questions of patronage. This great framework of government was not devised for the disposition of the flesh pots of office. The mighty problems of the Nation in its foreign and domestic affairs the decision of which must bring weal or woe to tens of millions, are enough to absorb the attention of any statesman."
Mr. Burton's suggestion is not a new one and it is not the only one which has been made with the same end in view. The Wilson breakdown and the Harding death have clearly emphasized the need for some practical changes to curtail the demands upon the President. One suggestion has been that the Vicepresidency be clothed with greater authority and that some of the work now devolving upon the President be transferred to the Vicepresident.
It is to be hoped that discussion on the platform and in the press will lead to some definite action which will not only relieve the President from much of the routine work but will likewise make the Vicepresidency of more value to the nation—Fargo Forum.

Mint is growing wild in the woods and the julep is growing a little wilder, but neither grows as wild as the people.

Nothing looks sadder these hot days than a fat man wondering how long before winter will be with us again.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

BY OLIVE BOKKETS BARTON

"Better put on your coats and mittens," said Johnny Jump Up.
"Why, where are we going this time?" asked Nick, rubbing his eyes and yawning.
The little garden fairy had wakened the Twins out of a sound sleep and told them that the Titmouse was waiting to take the three of them on another adventure.
"We are going to Switzerland," said Johnny Jump Up, jumping across the room, and turning a somersault first on Nick's little bed and then on Nancy's. "But I was only joking about the coats and mittens. The magic shoes will keep you warm."
Away off in a corner of the garden a little white velvet flower was holding up its head. It was very close to the ground and the Twins could see a dainty little white fairy inside of it.
She laughed when she saw the children staring. "Is my little flower so curious?" she asked. "Haven't you ever seen one like it before?"
"No," said Nancy. "We never did."
"That is because it doesn't grow in America," said the fairy. "So after all it isn't strange that you

FABLES ON HEALTH GOOD CLIMATE

Not everyone can choose the climate in which he is forced to live. And Anytown was no balmy California or Florida town.
So the Jones, like most people, had to adapt themselves to the existing climatic conditions.
Climate, of itself, has been found to be a lesser consideration. What is important is that a person take advantage of the fresh air to be obtained wherever he or she may live. The main advantage of fresh air may be had wherever you may live. Even in a large city outdoor air is, except in unusual cases, most invigorating.
The old cry of "It's too damp" is being downed by hygienic investigation. It is being found that prejudices against common dampness greatly exaggerate the evils. It's healthier to live in damp or foggy air than to remain a shut-in.
Those who react to dampness, drafts and all such changes are quite likely to be the people who spend great portions of their time shut up in rooms and offices.
So don't worry about climate. It you can afford to go to one that pleases you more, go right along. If you can't, get acquainted with the air at home.

Saint Bernard live near here and help travelers who may have trouble in crossing the mountains. These fine dogs of theirs have saved many people from freezing to death.
Next, the Titmouse carried them to the place where there were beautiful lakes.
"This country has the most beautiful lakes in the world," said Johnny. "People like to come and stay in the cities on their banks."
"Is that all there is in Switzerland and lakes?" asked Nick. "Just mountains and lakes?"
"Almost," laughed Johnny. "But there are a lot of fine farms, too, where the people have cows and other animals and raise food."

Grain Grading Case Considered

Judge Jansons in district court took under advisement the case in which suit was brought for John N. Hagan to cause State Treasurer Sleen to transfer $16,500 remaining in the old grain grading fund to the new department headed by Hagan. The court asked that briefs be filed in the case.

EVERETT TRUE BY CONDO

HALF WILL FAIL TO VOTE

By Albert Apple

Nearly half of the citizens who were entitled to vote in the 1920 presidential election didn't vote at all. For every 100 who voted, 96 stayed away from the polls. This was figured out recently by Simon Michelet, Washington lawyer, who served several years as secretary of the late Senator Knute Nelson of Minnesota.
The same thing will probably happen this year. Michelet claims that the "stay-at-home vote" could elect or defeat any candidate for president. He's right. That's obvious.
Michelet's analysis showed that over 25 million citizens, eligible to vote in 1920, failed to go to the polls. The people who did vote totaled 26,713,832, totaling votes cast for all candidates.
And the vote-slackers yell the loudest when anything goes wrong in Washington.

Nearly 80 million Germans voted in their national election in May. That's more than vote for president in the United States.
And yet we have nearly twice as many population as Germany.
They take their government seriously over there. They go to the polls and get what they want—instead of staying away and grumbling when government fails to please.

The ballot is the foundation of democratic government. Here in America, citizens by their ballots have virtually unlimited power to make any change they want and bring about any reform or condition they desire—simply by using their ballots intelligently.
Now, if Americans were paid $5 apiece for voting, how many would stay away from the polls?
And yet failure to vote may cost a citizen a good many times $5—in the form of inefficient government, high taxes and waste of public funds.

If you stay away from the polls this fall, you signify indifference as to what kind of government you live under and what is done with this America of which you are a part owner.

TELEPHONE MESSAGE FROM LILLIE PRESCOTT TO RUTH ELLINGTON
"Is this Mrs. Ellington?"
"Yes, Leslie. I'm glad to hear your voice. When did you get in?"
"Yesterday afternoon. I must see you today. Can you come over here, or shall I meet you at the shop?"
"You would better come to the shop."
"I'll be there at 4 this afternoon. Ruth, and not to burst upon you too suddenly, will tell you that I've bobbed my hair."
"Good for you! How does Mrs. Prescott Sr. like it?"
"She took it surprisingly well, but Jack and I quarreled over it. But I'll tell you all about it when we have our talk."
Telephone Message From Leslie Prescott to Sally Atherton
"Is this Mr. Prescott's office?"
"Yes."
"Is that you, Sally? This is Leslie Prescott. I'm awfully glad to hear your voice. I called you up to thank you for taking such good care of Jack while I was gone. I'm afraid he would have had a very bad time of it if it had not been for you."
"Oh, I'm not so sure of it, Leslie. If it hadn't been me, it would have been some one else. Mr. Prescott does seem to me to want to be amused all the time, doesn't he, after working hours. You've got your job cut out for you."
"You say that, Sally, as though you rather pined me."
"I do, Leslie. Always feel sorry for any woman who is married to one of those gregarious men who cannot amuse himself. I was married to one of them and I know. He never cared for his own company."
"You're the same old impossible Sally, my dear, but some way, with all your idiosyncrasies, you manage to hold your friends, both male and female. Dad and mother swear by you, and I'm going to show you parts of the letter I had from Be while I was in New York. And you know the place you hold in my heart."
"Thank you, dear. Did you want to speak to Mr. Prescott?"
"No. I called you up especially to say that I'm going to celebrate my third anniversary next week, and I'm wiring Bea to come. Will you also wire her?"
"Right away. I shall be extremely glad to see Bea. She's the only superlatively good woman that I know that doesn't bore me to extinction."
"Sally, Sally, you know you do not mean that! What about me?"
"No, Leslie, fuss up. You know you're not superlatively good, any more than I am."
"I don't know how good you are, Sally, but I feel especially good today, particularly as I have just bobbed my hair and quarreled with railway over it."
"That's good for you, Leslie, and good for him."
"I'm glad you think so, Sally. Come up to dinner with us, very soon, won't you?"
"Just as soon as I can get away. We're pretty full of business these days!"
"Shush! I shall expect you this week."

Progressives Send Hurry Call For Bigger Hall

By Harry B. Hunt
NEA Service Writer
Washington, June 27.—The first move of the LaFollette campaign, called for Cleveland July 4, promises to be a physical one.
The demand for representation as delegates from this and the other organizations qualified for representation in a party that the present outlook in the B. of L. E. auditorium, where the meetings were first scheduled, would be packed to the doors with the delegates alone. There would be no room for "distinguished progressives," attending in a personal, not a delegate, capacity. There would be no room for merely "interested" visitors, who the conference hopes to convert to active support of its candidate and platform.
Last, but not least, there would be no room for the newspaper and magazine representatives. And without these last there would be no adequate dissemination of the news of the event, on which to a great degree hangs the understanding of, and support for, the conference's conclusions.
Wherefore, 10 days before the conference was due to meet, a hurry-up call was sent out by Arthur Holder, secretary of the Conference for Progressive Political Action, under which the meeting is called, to find a larger hall.
The Grays' armory, with double the seating capacity of the first auditorium, seems now the likely choice. If that proves too small, there still remains the great public hall, which even the Republican convention failed to fill in its early sessions.

Delegates and visitors to the Cleveland conference will be confronted at the convention hall by the startling query, blazoned on striking hand-bills:
"Are You a Coteaux?"

This is to warn delegates in advance as they may not fight first and inquire the meaning of the word later. Being asked if you are a Coteaux doesn't mean that you are suspected of being some new brand of mental or moral renegade.
A Coteaux, instead, is a perfectly proper patriot.

Indeed, according to the "American Business Men" financing the publication of the handbills, one cannot be a genuine, 100 per cent. 24-carat patriot without belonging to the Loyal Legion of Coteaux, the motto of which is: "Never accuse without proof."
Briefly, the organization, which draws its name from the initials of "Citizens of the U. S. A." seeks to stop the reign of rumor and gossip about the honesty and integrity of public officials.

COMMERCIAL LEAGUE TEAMS PLAY TONIGHT

Lahr Motor and the Transportation teams of the Commercial league to cross bats at 6:30 this evening. Strengthened considerably and determined to start a series of wins the Lahr Motors are out after this game. Fairchild and Rose will probably be the battery.

Tonight's win will place the Transportation at the head of the league Tuesday's game resulting in a tie among the other first placers. Ball fans should see a close game and a better grade of ball as both teams have improved a great deal since the first of the season.

MR. KIRKWOOD DOESN'T NEED GOLF TITLES

His Trick Shots Are Enough. So He Passes Up the British Tourney

BY JOE WILLIAMS
 Joe Kirkwood will not compete in the British open championship this month. It would be bad "business" for him to do so. Kirkwood is a professional golfer and professionals are in golf for what they can get out of it. Kirkwood is an entertainer first, a player next, although his ability is that of a champion.

It would cost Kirkwood something like $1500 to make the trip abroad. The chances are 15 to 1, or worse, against his winning the title. The importance of a title to a golfer lies in the publicity it brings. This publicity puts the lucky golfer squarely in the spotlight, earns him a rating as an exhibition artist and increases his "price" as a professional teacher.

Kirkwood, however, is the one golfer in the world who doesn't need a championship. He can take a golf ball and entertain a gallery of spectators for two hours with his trick shots and black magic, and get big money for it. Another golfer could win three or four championships and not be the attraction, in this respect that the Australian is. So when you hear Kirkwood say he cannot afford to try for a title as important as the British open, you know why, and it is not hard to understand.

Incidentally, Kirkwood should have won the event last year, when he did go over. He had a better chance than Arthur Harvers, who finished first, or Walter Hagen, who was second, a stroke away.

Kirkwood was leading the entire field by four or five strokes up to the 13th hole on the final round. To win, all he had to do was play the remaining five holes in fairly respectable manner. He could drop three strokes to par and yet be certain of first place.

But Kirkwood is not a good finisher. His competitive temperament is not of the best. The very knowledge that he was close to victory upset his nerve control and he lost his touch almost completely.

Kirkwood is not an excellent putter, either. He cuts across the ball and is frequently off the line. Kirkwood would probably fare better in championships if he gave up his trick shots. This much he admits himself.

"But why should I?" he asks. "The trick shots are more valuable

Kirkwood's position in golf is, indeed, unique.

Billy Evans Says

A belated slide has, for the time being, robbed the New York Americans of the services of one of the greatest young players to break in to the majors in years.

I have reference to Outfielder Earl Combs, for whom the Yankees paid something like $50,000 last winter to the Louisville club of the American Association.

Recently in a game at Cleveland he started a late slide into the plate, his spikes caught, and his leg was so badly injured that it was necessary to carry him off the field.

The feet first slide is a dangerous play unless perfectly executed. Done improperly, it invariably results in injury.

A majority of players find it necessary to slow up a bit prior to the slide, so they may properly position themselves before hitting the dirt.

Of all the great base runners I have ever seen in action, Cobb, I believe, is the only one to start his slide at full speed.

Most necessary of all, in order to get the full advantage of the slide, is to properly gauge the distance. It is imperative that the runner go into the bag at full speed, and yet be able to hook into the base that he will not overslide.

The late slide is the bugbear of baseball. It means that the player must hit the dirt without giving thought to distance and position. Usually the spikes catch in the turf and the player suffers a leg injury.

Combs could have scored standing up. In running to the plate he so judged the play that he did not believe it necessary to slide. One of his teammates, thinking Combs was to be thrown out, yelled slide as he was almost on the plate. Seeking to obey orders, he slid into the plate late, didn't have time to rate his speed or distance and, as a result, will probably be out the rest of the season.

His loss, coming at a time when his services are badly needed, will be sorely felt by the New York club. A fine fielder, very fast, and a great hitter, Combs would have been a regular from the start on any club other than the Yankees.

Joining a club that had won a pennant and a world series it was only natural that he didn't have much of a chance to break into the lineup, despite his admitted ability.

Baseball managers are superstitious. They follow precedent closely. Seldom will they tempt fate.

Working along these lines, Miller Huggins started the season with the world's championship. That's merely common sense.

The suspension of Bob Meusel gave Earl Combs his big chance. Had he not been injured he would have been rated a star by the close of the season.

Perhaps, some time, someone will invent a substitute for the spike, which although necessary to the game is the cause of many serious injuries.

COMMERCIAL LEAGUE TEAMS PLAY TONIGHT

Lahr Motor and the Transportation teams of the Commercial League to cross bats at 6:30 this evening. Strengthened considerably and determined to start a series of wins, the Lahr Motors are out after this game. Fairchild and Rose will probably be the battery.

Tonight's win will place the Transportation at the head of the league Tuesday's game resulting in a tie among the other first place teams. Ball fans should see a close game and a better grade of ball as both teams have improved a great deal since the first of the season.

TUTTLE TEAM PLAYS HERE

The fast Tuttle baseball team will play the Grove team at the Centenary Sunday, June 29. The Tuttle team has lost but one game this season. The game will start at 2 p. m.

MR. KIRKWOOD DOESN'T NEED GOLF TITLES

His Trick Shots Are Enough. So He Passes Up the British Tourney

BY JOE WILLIAMS
 Joe Kirkwood will not compete in the British open championship this month. It would be had "business" for him to do so. Kirkwood is a professional golfer and professionals are a golf for what they can get out of it. Kirkwood is an entertainer first, a player next, although his ability is that of a champion.

It would cost Kirkwood something like $1500 to make the trip abroad. The chances are 15 to 1, or worse, against his winning the title. The importance of a title to a golfer lies in the publicity it brings. This publicity puts the lucky golfer squarely in the spotlight, earns him a rating as an exhibition artist and increases his "price" as a professional teacher.

Kirkwood, however, is the one golfer in the world who doesn't need a championship. He can take a golf ball and entertain a gallery of spectators for two hours with his trick shots and black magic, and get big money for it. Another golfer could win three or four championships and not be the attraction, in this respect that the Australian is. So when you hear Kirkwood say he cannot afford to try for a title as important as the British open, you know why, and it is not hard to understand.

Incidentally, Kirkwood should have won the event last year, when he did go over. He had a better chance than Arthur Havers, who finished first, or Walter Hagen, who was second, a stroke away.

Kirkwood was trading the entire field by four or five strokes up to the 13th hole on the final round. To win, all he had to do was play the remaining five holes in fairly respectable manner. He could drop three strokes to par and yet be certain of first place.

But Kirkwood is not a good finisher. His competitive temperament is one of the best. The very knowledge that he was close to victory upset his nerve control and he lost his touch almost completely.

Kirkwood is not an excellent putter, either. He cuts across the ball and is frequently off the line. Kirkwood would probably fare no better in a match play. This much he admits himself.

"But why should I?" he asks. "The trick shots are more valuable."

U. S. HOPE IN SHOT-PUT

CLARENCE HOUSER

In the final Olympic tryouts in this country Clarence Houser threw the 16-pound shot further than any of his countrymen. On the strength of this showing the University of Southern California giant is America's shot hope abroad.

to me than a championship would be. Kirkwood's position in golf is, indeed, unique.

Billy Evans Says

A belated slide here, for the time being, robbed the New York Yankees of the services of one of its greatest young players to break in to the majors in years. I have referred to outfielder Earl Combs, for whom the Yankees paid something like $50,000 last winter to the Louisville club of the American Association.

Recently a major at Cleveland set the full advantage of the slide, in to properly gauge the distance. It is imperative that the runner go into the bag at full speed, and yet be able to so hook into the base that he will not overslide.

The late slide is the bane of baseball. It means that the player trust but the dirt without giving thought to distance and position. Usually the spikes catch in the turf and the player suffers a leg injury.

Combs could have scored standing up. In running to the plate he so judged the play that he did not believe it necessary to slide. One of his teammates, thinking Combs was to be thrown out, yelled slide as he was almost on the plate. Seeking to obey orders, he slid into the plate late, didn't have time to rate his speed or distance and, as a result, will probably be out the rest of the season.

His loss, coming at a time when his services are badly needed, will be sorely felt by the New York club. A fine fielder, very fast, and a great hitter, Combs would have been a regular from the start on any club other than the Yankees.

Joining a club that had won a pennant and a world series it was only natural that he didn't have much of a chance to break into the lineup, despite his admitted ability.

Baseball managers are superstitious. They follow precedent closely. Seldom will they tempt fate.

Working along these lines, Miller Huggins started the season with the world's championship. That's merely common sense.

The suspension of Bob Meusel gave Earl Combs his big chance. Had he not been injured he would have been rated a star by the close of the season.

Perhaps, some time, someone will invent a substitute for the spikes, which although necessary to the game is the cause of many serious injuries.

The pledge of the printed word

*****

Friendships in ancient days were formed by pledges of blood. Medieval knights won mutual aid by pledges of the sword. But modern business forms friends in every corner of the world through the pledge of the printed word.

Advertisements are pledges made especially for you . . . pledges that advertised goods you buy are exactly as claimed.

When you buy an advertised phonograph, you buy one of established workmanship and tone. It has been tested by thousands before you. Its dealers, sure of its worth, invite the testing of millions more.

What is not advertised may be worth buying. What is, must be!

Read the advertisements to know which goods are advertised.

AN ADVERTISER'S PLEDGE CAN BE REDEEMED ONLY BY YOUR ENTIRE SATISFACTION

Where shall we go this evening?

Frequently you decide to spend the evening in town with some friend. The first part is easy. Dinner at a pleasant restaurant. But afterwards . . . What will you do to carry on this business of having a good time?

Easy! Two cents. An evening paper. A glance at the advertisements. A suggestion—agreement, and you're off!

You didn't go around to the different theatres, to be driven to an unsatisfactory choice by fatigue and time. If it's worth while to consult the advertisements about amusements, how much more worth while must it be when it comes to the spending of the household money.

Read the advertisements. They place before you the full choice of the trustworthy goods in the market. They describe advantages, and give you full information before you have to stir out of your chair. Pursue for every article you buy the method you use when it comes to amusements.

The way to be sure of what you buy is to buy advertised goods.

READING ADVERTISEMENTS IS AN EDUCATION IN BETTER BUYING

GEORGE TAYLOR

America's outstanding hope in the Olympic 400-meter hurdles is George Taylor of Grinnell college who twice successfully broke the world record for this event at the Cambridge tryouts. On the first day he completed the task in 53 seconds, and the next he cut the time to 52.6-10 seconds, giving the most remarkable exhibition of hurdling ever seen in this country.

BANKING AND CREDIT GAIN IN NORTHWEST

Federal Reserve Bank Reports Gain of Considerable Potential Strength

MID-SUMMER DULLNESS

Condition Experienced During Past Month in Many Parts of District

Minneapolis, June 27.—The Ninth federal reserve district is experiencing a period known as "mid summer dullness," according to the monthly report issued by the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis, for its district. The activity and volume of business, however, is better than a month previous, the report said. A lessening of marketing of agricultural products and late spring activity on farms were deterrent factors.

Mid-summer dullness, advanced by sixty days, characterizes current business in this district. Measured by bank debits, the activity and volume of business appears to be slightly better than a month ago, but poorer than a year ago. Marketing of agricultural products, late spring activity on farms, and financing probably account for this improvement since merchandising, manufacturing, and city employment conditions all show declines in May.

Grains Moving

Grains have moved to market in larger volume, except wheat, and all terminal stocks were heavily reduced. This, coupled with the crop outlook, has improved wheat prices. On the other hand, livestock prices have changed little, although the heavy receipts of hogs prevailing for some months past are now tapering off, and receipts of calves are somewhat curtailed.

Merchandising at wholesale has been much depressed, except for farm implement sales. Retail department store sales have not been sufficient to move stocks normally and hand-to-mouth buying results. However, rural buying has shown some increase but even this is not fully up to the normal increase customary for this season, nor on a level with a year ago.

Manufacturing, with the exception of flour, shows the same decline as in merchandising. Mining output, however, has been maintained. Lake shipments appear to be much in balance, when compared with last year, owing to a larger down lake movement of grains, flour and lumber and a great reduction in the up-lake movement of coal.

Building Activity
Prospective building activity, as shown by the permits issued, is about one-fifth poorer than a year ago. However, there was an improvement over last month in the valuation, although not in the number of permits. Residential rents are reported as declining in important cities of this district, indicating either that new building in recent months has overtaken the demand for housing, or that the present pronounced increase in unemployment has begun to have its usual effect.

Banking and credit conditions on the average in this district, have acquired considerably greater potential strength during the six week period ending at the middle of June. Reports from 25 selected member banks in the larger cities show a loan decline of 5 millions, coupled with a demand deposits increase of 71-2 millions. Federal reserve bank loans, meanwhile, were practically unchanged and Federal reserve notes issued early in May for depositors' needs, had begun to return in substantial quantity during the first three weeks of June.

Crop conditions in general were favorable on June 1 throughout the Ninth Federal Reserve District. During the first two weeks of June sufficient moisture fell to supply the crops in most sections with all the moisture needed for some time. All the crops are backward, but the season has favored the development of root systems and stooling of small grains. Weed growths have been retarded also, which will give the crops a good start on them this year.

Planting Completed
Practically all planting was completed by June 15, except flax and corn at some northern points where climatic conditions have been particularly unfavorable. There was less than normal abandonment of the winter grains, which has resulted in an upward movement of the average tilled acreage per farm and per farmer. There was an excess of available farm labor on June 1 in practically all sections of the district.

Farmers in Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota and Montana have reserved nearly two million more acres for corn, flax, potatoes and tame hay in 1924 than in 1923, providing approximately the same proportion of plow lands are cropped in 1924 as were cropped last year. The United States Department of Agriculture estimates, prepared by the Agricultural Statisticians in each state, indicate that there are 600,000 less acres of rye this year ago, a reduction of nearly 23 per cent, and 11-2 million less acres of spring wheat, a reduction of 140,000 acres in barley, and a similar increase in oats, together with a small increase of 20,000 acres in winter wheat, accounts for 300,000 acres of the reduction in spring wheat and rye, leaving 1,800,000 acres additional to last year for crops the acreages of which have not yet been reported. These crops are corn, potatoes, flax and tame hay. A large proportion of the expected increased flax plantings will probably be on new ground, which will further increase the area to be planted to these crops.

Pastures were short and hay prospects have suffered from the lack of moisture during May, and the cool weather. The June 1 condition of tame hay was several points below

FISHER HEADS N. D. BANKERS FOR NEW YEAR

Devils Lake Man Is Elected at Annual Convention Held in Fargo

Fargo, June 27.—Blanding Fisher of Devils Lake, president of the National Bankers' Association, was elected president of the North Dakota Bankers' Association, preceding adjournment of the 22nd annual convention today. Ed. Pierce of Sheldon was chosen vice-president, and the treasurer will be selected at a meeting of the executive committee this afternoon.

Resolutions were adopted pledging support to all intelligent effort to develop agriculture, approving of legislation which seeks to limit branch banking to those states in which it is now practiced opposing laws providing for tax exemption of public securities, pledging North Dakota Association, condemning movements which seek to lessen the authority of the United States Supreme Court and to enact unconstitutional proposals and opposing attempts to bond the state for the purpose of paying the debts of its banking institutions.

NO BODIES IN WRECK OF N. P.

Everything Possible Done, Says Superintendent

The cars in the wreck east of Bismarck have been moved from the ditch, as well as the cars that were under the coal, and everything has been done that can be done to ascertain whether any bodies are buried in the wreck but none have been found, according to a telegram received from W. E. Berner, of Jamestown, superintendent of this division on the N. P.

The head brakeman was over the train before the accident, Mr. Berner said, and Loomis, the man who suffered a broken leg in the wreck, stated to the sheriff that he had seen no other men on the train.

"We are certain that there are no bodies in the wreckage," Mr. Berner stated in his message.

Besides the wrecking crew from the railroad, the sheriff's office had a man supervising the work all the time.

HELD AFTER CAR CRASH

Fargo Man Charged With Manslaughter

Fargo, N. D., June 27.—Andrew Vlahos, an Andrew Vlahos, as he also is known, held responsible Thursday by a coroner's jury, for the death of Mrs. Mary Wagner in an automobile accident Wednesday afternoon, when his car crashed into an electric light pole at Tenth street and First Avenue N., surrendered to Fargo police Thursday night.

A warrant charging Vlahos with second degree manslaughter, was issued Thursday afternoon, after the coroner's jury returned its verdict, on complaint of H. F. Horner, Cass county attorney. A city warrant, charging Vlahos with violating a city traffic ordinance, was issued earlier in the day.

Vlahos was hunted all day Thursday by the authorities. He could not be found, however, and residents in the neighborhood of 517 Fourth street N., where Vlahos lived, reported he had not come home since shortly after the accident Wednesday.

At 7:30 p. m. Thursday, Vlahos appeared voluntarily, at police headquarters. He was immediately placed under arrest, and was arraigned before Justice J. K. Bingham. Vlahos's bond was set at $2,000, in default of which he was committed to the Cass county jail.

GIDEONS WILL BANQUET HERE

Mayor Smart of Minot Will Be Presiding Officer

The local unit of Gideons is sponsoring a banquet to be held in the Grand Pacific Saturday, June 28, at 7, to which everyone interested in the Gideons and their work are invited.

Mayor Smart of Minot and Governor Nestor will be the chief speakers at the banquet, while music will be provided by a male chorus of men in the city. The speakers will aid in familiarizing those present with the work of the Gideons, which is at present the task of billing the state of North Dakota.

Nineteen thousand bibles will be needed to complete the work, and the Gideons plan to do this during the month of June. Two carloads of the bibles will start from New York, covered with placards advertising the fact that they will be placed in the hotel of North Dakota.

Presiding at the banquet will be A. L. Bishop, state president. A committee consisting of H. G. Schwartz, vice-president of Gideons, William Schwartz of New Salem, Henry Halvorsen, and William Noggle all of this city, are in charge of arrangements for the banquet.

The Ministerial association, with Dr. S. E. Halford as president, are backing the Gideons in their work. They have called a meeting for this afternoon to outline a course of action in assisting the local unit.

DISABLED VET MAKING GOOD OUT ON FARM

One Near Bemidji, Minnesota, Is Reported to be Getting Along Well

Many disabled veterans, when they came out of the army and realized that they had no definite place in the industrial life of the country set about making a place for themselves, in true pioneer spirit. With a desire for independence aroused in them, the idea of working for some one else met with little favor. They wanted to be "on their own."

Hundreds of such men, with physical disabilities incurred in the military service, are being helped back into economic independence by the U. S. Veterans Bureau in two specific ways. They are being given systematic instruction in agriculture by a corps of traveling instructors who teach each man on his own little farm, all the essentials of scientific agriculture, and also by granting each one a monthly maintenance allowance, ranging from $30 to $170 a month, according to the number and relationship of his dependents, during his period of training.

Because of space limitations it will be possible to mention only three instances of what they are doing.

One man bought a 40 acre farm, on a good road, only a few miles from Bemidji, Minnesota. When purchased, this place had eight acres under cultivation, a comfortable house, a well, a new barn, a poultry house, and a garden with a number of small fruit trees. The financial support of a local bank was secured and this semi-improved farm was bought under a contract for a deed. This man showed sound judgment in selecting his farm, has met every financial obligation promptly, co-operates well with his instructors, and does his farm work so well that he can be secured 100 percent every month. His poultry and cows are already producing him a nice monthly revenue.

Another man, near Pinewood, Minnesota, began his operations on a piece of wild land. This he is clearing with his own hands, doing his own stump blasting, burning, plowing, planting, and harvesting. He has built a comfortable house, a good barn and out-buildings, all within the space of two years. This has not been an easy task, with his physical disability, but his ultimate success is certain because he takes good care of his health, as he does his other resources. In short, while developing his farm in the pioneer way, we find a well balanced man upon what will be a well balanced farm. Already this man has a considerable income from his poultry and other products.

Still another man, ambitious and adventurous located in northern Minnesota, near the Canadian border. He bought 120 acres of land, with fifty acres broken. He made most of his own furniture, married a pioneer girl, and set himself to the task of developing a farm. He has opened up 40 additional acres, built a barn and poultry house, enlarged his dwelling house, fenced the land, and bought some cows. Prosperity reigns, and the patter of little feet is heard. The place is now a real home. Responsibility rests upon him, and opportunity beckons. The Veterans Bureau traveling instructor is frequently at hand to help him with his difficulties.

These instances might be multiplied. These plucky veterans are "carrying on" as successfully in peace pursuits as they did in their war duties.

SEC. MELLON ON STAND

Testimony Fails to Implicate Him in Liquor Sales

New York, June 27.—With Andrew W. Mellon, secretary of the treasury, on the witness stand, summoned by the defense in the trial of Gaston B. Means, former department of justice agent, and his secretary, Elmer Jarneke, charged with violating the prohibition law, counsel for Means today failed in an attempt to show that Means was dismissed because he exposed an illegal withdrawal of whisky from a distillery in Pittsburgh, partly owned by Mr. Mellon.

Secretary Mellon admitted that he once had owned an interest in the Overholt distillery but said that his first knowledge of Means' investigation of the distillery had come when he read the testimony given before the senate committee. Mr. Mellon added that the distillery company since had been liquidated and that he now had no connection with it.

To questions as to whether forged permits for withdrawal of 42,000 gallons of whisky from the distillery had been deposited by a man named Goodman as collateral for a loan from the Mellon National Bank of Pittsburgh, in which the secretary is interested, Mr. Mellon replied that this was not true.
